

Fevicol Trademark Violation

The Bombay High Court has imposed a fine of Rs 50 Lakhs on Premier Stationery Industries for violating Fevicol MR trademark owned by Pidillite Industries.

Taarak Mehta Ka Ooltah Chashmah

Delhi High Court issued a temporary injunction against Taarakmehtakaooltahchashmah.Com & Ors, including the websites, e-commerce platforms, Youtube channels from restraining them from copying Taarak Mehta Ka Ooltah Chashma in a mimetic form.

NCLT approves merger between Reliance's Viacom18 and Disney's Star India

The National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) Mumbai has given the green signal to the mega merger between Viacom18 owned by Reliance Industries and Disney's Star India, for setting the stage for a transformative shift in India's media sector.

'Boroline' is a well-known Trademark

The High Court of Delhi has restrained the use of 'Borobeautey' and declared the word 'Boroline', used for selling an antiseptic ayurvedic cream, as a well-known trademark. The word 'Boroline' has attained the status of a household name, and is one of the oldest trademarks in India.

Delhi High Court permanently restrains 'Vigoura' Mark

Pharmaceutical company Pfizer accused it of infringing its registered trademark 'Viagra' used for an erectile dysfunction allopathic drug. The Delhi High Court has permanently restrained a homeopathic oil manufacturer from selling its products under the mark 'Vigoura'.

Violations of Copyright in the song 'Chuttamalle'

A copyright dispute has stirred the Indian film-song industry. The song 'Chuttamalle' faced allegations from the internet of copying from the song 'Manike Mage Hithe'. The violation of these exclusive rights is considered as copyright infringement.

